

Do you work in a Nursery or Early Years Setting?.....

This information is from the Family & Parenting Institute

Dear friend,

A major study, released this week, examines how nurseries and other early years settings can better support parents wanting to develop their children's learning at home.

The Family and Parenting Institute, in partnership with the Campaign for Learning, conducted the study to identify which strategies are most effective in supporting parents to give their child the strongest educational start in life.

The findings identify best practice, help quantify the benefits of support to parents, and offer suggestions about how to make best use of resources at a time of financial constraint.

The study, named Provider Influence on the Home Learning Environment, was commissioned by the Department for Children, Schools and Families (now the Department for Education) and released on July 4, 2011.

You can read the study here.

Warm regards,

Your friends at the Family and Parenting Institute
